WYNE ATTACKS THE UNDERWOOD TARIFF SCHEME

Paints Vivid Word Picture of Ruined Industry and Impoverished Labor if the Measure Passes.

GENERAL DEBATE IN LOWER HOUSE ENDS

Members, Weary of Oratory, Remain Out of the Chamber While Set Speeches
Are Made.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—General debate on the Democratic tariff bill in the house wound up tonight in an outburst of oratory. Democrats spent the day lauding the measure, while the Republicans and Progressives attacked its provisions. The house, weary after a week of oratory, did not produce a number of speeches, and most of the speeches of the day were made to the benches. However, Representative Payne of New York, the ranking Republican member of the ways and means committee and the father of the tariff bill, had a good sized audience to listen to his denunciation of the bill. He painted a vivid word picture of ruined industry and impoverished labor, which he presented as the inevitable result of the Underwood bill. Republicans vociferously applauded when he declared that the measure in the cost of living promulgated by the Democrats as a rule of the revision was a fallacy.

As Goats Protected.

Mr. Payne criticised the ways and means committee for putting wool on a free list while leaving on a tariff the hair of the angora goat, intimating that it was the work of the committee. "There are a million goats raised in the United States," he said, "and I understand $2,999,999 of them are raised in the United States."

Democrat Praises Bill.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, Democrat, declared the bill represented a new era in the government's fiscal policy, "making lighter the burden of taxation upon the consumers of the country and compelling great wealth to contribute its share toward paying the government's expenses."

Representative Chandler, New York,

advocated the reduction of tariff duties and replied to Representative Heflin of Alabama, who had called Theodore Roosevelt the man from Africa, and in the same breath had invoked the spirit of Andrew Jackson to guide the deliberations of the Democratic congress.

As Jackson's Record.

Mr. Jackson once killed a man named Dickinson in a duel," said Mr. Chandler; "he threatened to hang Calhoun as high as Haman; tried to horse-whip Benton; challenged General Winfield Scott to a duel; overran Florida, and had two eminent British gentlemen hanged, thereby nearly bringing us into a war with Great Britain and Spain, and when president he put up his cabinet by his own headstrong violence. This is the mild mannered man whose spirit is invoked in the same breath that is employed to denounce Roosevelt as a wild man from Africa."

COND OPERATION BECOMES NECESSARY

IL WAR VETERAN FOR COMMISSIONER

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Secretary of War Taft said that no man would be appointed commissioner of penitentiaries who was not a civil war veteran, and would eliminate many candidates.

GIRL IS ATTACKED BY HONOR CONVICT

Worsted, He Tries to Escape—
When She Summons
Help by Telephone.

DEPUTY TO THE RESCUE

Assailant Is Caught While
Changing Clothes, Prisoner
Denies Girl's Story.

After attacking a seventeen-year-old girl in a field adjoining the state penitentiary yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock, Stephen A. Fuller, a convict serving a three-year term for a similar offense, attempted to escape from the prison confines. Fuller was just changing clothing in the field when Deputy Warden Andrew C. Ure, who had responded in haste to an alarm which was telephoned the prison office, came upon him.

At first Fuller denied all knowledge of the affair and explained that he was just taking off his rubber boots preparatory to returning to the prison. Later, when confronted by the girl, he said that he had seen her fall in the field, but that he had in no way molested her.

Was With Children.

According to the girl, who lives with her parents in Forest Dale and whose name is being withheld by Warden Arthur Pratt, she was crossing the field with two children, searching for early wild flowers. They came upon Fuller at an irrigating ditch, where he was working. He offered to help the children across the ditch, explaining that he was a farmer from Murray, and that the field was a part of his farm. After he had carried the children across the water the girl started to jump over the ditch, when Fuller grabbed her and threw her to the ground.

While only 17 years old, the girl is large for her age, and proved more than a match for the convict. She kicked him and then dug her finger nails into his face. At the prison last night Fuller's face looked as though a curry comb had been pulled over it.

Telephones Alarm.

The girl then ran to a house in the neighborhood and telephoned the alarm to the prison. Deputy Warden Ure responded at once. Fuller was found a little distance from where he is said to have attacked the girl. He had already changed a portion of his clothing and was removing his rubber boots when the deputy warden arrived.

Fuller was taken to the penitentiary from Ogden on April 29, 1911, after having been convicted of a statutory charge. He was sentenced to three years. His "good time" aggregated nine months, and he would have been released on July 29 next. His action yesterday will cause him to lose all of his credits.

Was an Honor Prisoner.

According to Warden Pratt the man had always been well behaved and had been trusted. This spring he had been at work every day about the prison farm, and was yesterday sent out without a guard to attend to the irrigating ditches.

Warden Pratt said last night that he would swear out a complaint against the man today, and would do everything in his power to prosecute him. The maximum penalty for the offense with which he will be charged is ten years.

NEVADA SENATOR WARNS DEMOCRATS

Predicts Loss of Party Strength if the West Is Discriminated Against in the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Senator Newlands, who leads the protest of western senators against free wool and sugar, issued a statement today defining the position of these senators toward tariff reductions promised in the party platform and predicting that the party would lose some of its fourteen senators from west of the Missouri if products of that region were discriminated against in the new tariff act. The senator and his colleagues expect to confer with President Wilson and the tariff-framing committee of both houses of congress in the near future.

"We have no doubt," said the statement, "that the viewpoint of the west will be fairly considered. Our platform demands that 'material reductions' be speedily made upon the necessities of life, but it also declares for the ultimate attainment of the principles we advocate by legislation that will not injure or destroy legitimate industry. We of the west assume that the principles will be allied to western as well as eastern interests."

Will Enforce the Law.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The pure food board has denied an application of importers and distributors for a postponement beyond May 1 of the order forbidding the interstate shipment of vegetables greened with copper salts. Enforcement of the order previously had been deferred from January 1.

SELECTION OF INLOW'S JURY SLOW PROCESS

Counsel for State and Defense
Exercise Peremptory Challenges on Six Veniremen
"Passed for Cause."

NEW VENIRE OF 75 DRAWN FOR TODAY

John Thorup Startles Courtroom by Admitting Under Searching Questions He Is Living in Polygamy.

After filling half the seats in the jury box with veniremen who were "passed for cause," counsel in the case of the state versus Caleb A. Inlow, on trial before Judge M. L. Ritchie on a charge of the murder of Chauffeur "Eddie" White, exercised their right to peremptory challenges and the entire half dozen prospective jurors were excused from service. The defense exhausted four of its fifteen challenges and the state only two of its like number. The venire being exhausted a special venire of seventy-five names was drawn in open court and the efforts to secure a jury will be resumed this morning at the point where they started at the opening of the case. Throughout the day's proceedings the defendant sat with the air of apparent indifference which has marked his demeanor on his every appearance in court.

Sensation Develops.

The participants in and spectators of the opening of what will develop into one of the most interesting murder trials in the history of the state received their first thrill yesterday afternoon when John T. Thorup, a venireman, calmly admitted that he is living in polygamous relations with a plural wife. Called to the jury box just before the noon adjournment of court, Thorup stated under oath that he resided at 723 Ninth East. There he has a wife and seven children. During the recess of the court counsel for the defense learned more details of the venireman's home life, and questioned him sharply when court again convened at 2 o'clock.

Makes No Apology.

Under the searching questions of counsel Thorup admitted having another home at 737 East Seventh South, where a plural wife and seven children reside. "I live there a part of the time," he told counsel. The youngest of the seven children by his plural wife is "going on five years of age." Coolly and without embarrassment Thorup explained that, having taken his plural wife before the manifesto went into effect, he thought he had the right to continue his relations with both his wives. Both sides passed the venireman for cause, but he was later excused on peremptory challenge of the state.

Thorup's admission in court may result in a charge being filed against him by County Attorney I. E. Willey. Mr. Willey stated yesterday when the matter was brought to his attention that he would make an investigation. "It is impossible to secure a conviction on a charge of polygamy," he says; "the higher courts having held the introduction of documentary proof of marriage essential. As these plural marriage ceremonies were performed by church officials, no documentary evidence exists. The only charge that can be successfully prosecuted is that of unlawful cohabitation. Mr. Willey would not say that he would file such a charge against Thorup."

Veniremen Are Excused.

Of the six veniremen "passed for cause," Henry Fitzhugh, a mining engineer 57 years of age, and M. J. Rudy, 75 South Second West, foreman of the O. S. L. freight house, were peremptorily challenged by the state. The four on whom the defense exercised the same right were John T. Thorup, Hyrum A. Silver, a retired foundryman of 1513 South Fifth East; John Elkins, 67 West Fourth North, an employee of the Z. C. M. L. and S. D. Chase, 89 H Street, a clerk. Of the other veniremen examined the following had formed an opinion that could not be changed by evidence and were excused: Alvin C. Strong 351 East Fourth South; Edward G. Dawson of Murray; Chester E. Calhoun of Murray; and Oscar Reppert of 665 Eleventh avenue. Axel H. Steele, a deputy sheriff at the time of the crime, was excused without parole. Ernest Saville and William J. Newman were relieved from duty on account of ill health and Henry Wilson of 622 East Seventh avenue on account of defective hearing, although he protested that he could hear. If the others "would talk plain enough," Soren C. Miller, one of the last veniremen to be examined, is unalterably opposed to capital punishment, besides having strong feelings against the order previously had been deferred from January 1.

BALKAN ALLIES FIGHTING OVER SPOILS OF WAR

Bulgarians Battle With Ser-vians Near Monastir and With Greeks Near Nigrita,
Seres and Saloniki.

POWERS PUZZLED OVER SITUATION

Mystery Is Deepened by the Exploit of Essad Pasha in Albania; Montenegrins Leave Scutari.

LONDON, April 28.—The mystery surrounding events in the Balkans is becoming deepened. No further news has been received of Essad Pasha's exploit in Albania, and the situation at Saloniki is difficult to understand. A dispatch from Saloniki of current date confirms the report that orders were given for the Bulgars to evacuate all places occupied by the Greeks, but that later these orders were countermanded and that official attempts were made to pretend they were never given. A Bucharest dispatch, dated April 29, to the Daily Telegraph, expresses the firm conviction that immediately peace is signed between the allies and Turkey a new war will commence between Serbia, Bulgaria and Greece.

Rumors of Battles.

A Bulgarian correspondent says that large concentrations of opposing troops are in readiness for these new campaigns, and adds that he has heard from reliable sources that considerable fighting has already occurred, and that three important engagements were fought in the last week, concerning which the greatest secrecy has been maintained. He describes fighting, with heavy losses on both sides, between the Bulgarians and Servians to the northeast of Monastir on April 10, and fighting between the Greeks and Bulgarians for a week in the vicinity of Nigrita, Seres and Saloniki.

The Daily Telegraph calls attention to the fact that whereas a few weeks ago the Servians were endeavoring to defeat and capture Djavid Pasha's army, these operations appear to have ceased, and suggests that the cessation of the Servian attack is connected with Essad Pasha's coup.

Apparently the ambassadors' conference in London today postponed its decision until the next morning, which is set for May 1.

Evacuate Scutari.

VIENNA, Austria, April 28.—Crown Prince Danilo of Montenegro and his troops have marched out of Scutari toward the north, according to official dispatches received here today. Only five batteries of Montenegrin artillery remain in the city.

Government circles in Vienna regard

the movements of the Montenegrin troops from Scutari as equivalent to the evacuation of the fortress, which had been demanded by the European powers.

Montenegro's Protest.

LONDON, April 28.—The representative of the Montenegrin government in London received instructions today from Cetinje ordering him to protest formally against the demand of the European powers for the immediate evacuation of Scutari by the Montenegrins, which is described by the government of King Nicholas as "unjust and cruel."

The demand of the European powers is couched in the following terms: "We have the honor to declare collectively to the royal government of Montenegro that the taking of the fortress of Scutari does not in any way modify the decision of the European powers relative to the delimitation of the frontiers of the northern and north-eastern Albania, and consequently the city of Scutari must be evacuated with the briefest possible delay and must be handed over to the European powers represented by the commandants of the international naval forces lying before the Montenegrin coast. The royal government of Montenegro is invited to give a prompt reply to this communication."

The Montenegrin representative in London, to whom this demand was enabled back from Cetinje, said today: "I have been ordered by my government to protest formally against this unjust and cruel demand and once more to ask the European powers to

LONE HOLDUP ROBS PEERY HOTEL BAR

Small Masked Man With Two Revolvers Gets $50 and Diamond Ring.

With a gun in each hand and the upper half of his face hidden behind a black mask, one small man held up the Peery hotel bar, corner of Third South and West Temple streets, at 9:50 o'clock last night, securing $50 from the cash register and a diamond ring valued at $125 from Jack Monahan, the bartender.

Three other occupants of the bar room got off with a few caustic remarks. Inside the trousers leg of one of the men $300 in bills hung uncertainly while the man hoped that they might not shake clear down to the floor.

Departing by the back way, the hold-upper escaped through an alley.

"Up with your hands," said the little man as he entered from the rear by way of the swinging doors leading to the pool room.

Charles Smith, a railroad man, was slow. He was interested in noticing that the holdup dropped the guns to shooting position very neatly after pushing the doors open with his elbows.

"Get 'em up or I'll kill you," further admonished the little man, while the automatic pistol in his right hand and the large caliber revolver in his left both took on a deadly steadiness.

"For God's sake get your hands up, boys," shouted Monahan. They did, but Louis Eagle, a steam shovel engineer, had managed to slip a roll of $300 in bills from his pocket over his waist band into his trousers leg.

Holding one hand in the air, Monahan took all the money from the cash register and placed it in a flannel bag provided by the robber. From his pocket he took $150 and added it to the other.

"Off with that diamond ring," said the man with the guns.

The ring went with the money. A diamond stick pin in Monahan's tie was overlooked. Ignoring the three other men in the room, the holdup backed out the way he entered, keeping the pistols leveled.

Dashing through the pool room, the robber ran out the doorway by which

ADVICE OF WILSON IS REJECTED

Secretary Bryan Arrives
in Sacramento, and After an All-day Conference Is Unable to Convince Legislators Anti-
Alien Land Bill Is Not Right.

MEASURE LIKELY TO BECOME LAW

Questions Put to Head of State Department
Submitted to President and Answer Probably Will Be Made at the Conference Today.

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—A day of conference between Secretary of State Bryan and Governor Johnson and the members of the California legislature over proposed anti-alien land laws ended tonight with the conference adjourned to await replies to messages sent to Washington tonight by Mr. Bryan.

The impression prevailed here, when the conference adjourned, that the resolve of the majority leaders, previously announced, to enact a bill specifically debarring "aliens ineligible to citizenship" from owning land in California, remained unchanged, although Mr. Bryan, as the personal representative of President Wilson, advised strongly against such action.

Johnson Is Intense.

Governor Johnson indicated this in a brief, intense address to the conference. He declared California's right to follow the lead of other states in framing the land bill was unquestioned and said such action now seemed assured.

"I have presented the president's views as I understand them," declared Mr. Bryan to the conference just before it adjourned. "Tonight I shall submit to him the further questions you have asked me, calling attention to the statutes of Washington and Arizona, and I shall be prepared tomorrow, I hope, to give you his answer."

Governor's Position.

Stating his position to the conference, Governor Johnson said in part:

"The bill proposed for passage by the California legislature can call forth no just criticism from the national administration nor from any foreign nation. Here in California it is not a question of whether the Japanese government takes offense at what we do, but whether we give that government just cause for offense I do not know. I do not believe that the proposed law prohibiting land ownership by aliens who are ineligible to citizenship gives the Japanese just cause for taking offense."

"If their dignity is threatened they should have protested when Washington and Arizona passed the laws similar to that which we now propose to pass."

The conference lasted from 11 o'clock in the morning until far into the evening. It adjourned subject to the call of the presiding officers of the two houses of the legislature.

Secretary Bryan arrived in Sacramento at 6 o'clock this morning. With his consent plans were laid for an immediate hearing, and shortly after 11 o'clock the first session of the conference began.

Secrecy Maintained.

Until the great oaken doors of the assembly chamber were closed and locked Secretary Bryan refused to give any inkling of his message to anyone, and even at the conference he spoke only after legislators had explained fully the public demand for alien land legislation that brought about the present situation.

Those who expected Secretary Bryan to expound a new theory of states' rights
